As part of her return to BC Lisa will be appearing at the Chilliwack Cultural Centre for a night that promises to flow with slow-burning country allure, capturing the musical essence of those relaxing evenings watching the sunset. \Chilliwack Visual Artists Association presents

H2O UNDER ATTACK

Art Show, titled “H2O Under Attack”, transforms Chilliwack Visual Artists Art Gallery into a protest camp. Diane White’s politically charged paintings, depicting stunning BC landscapes offset by yellow ribbons of stenciled environmental messages of concern, command the gallery space. Water, our most precious natural resource, is the central focus of the paintings.

White’s show runs from August 2- September 13, 2014

The signature painting of the show is titled- “H2O Under Attack” is large (12’ X 4’7”), and complex in its imagery. Pipelines, tar sands, oil spills, and natural landscape flood the picture frame. The painting is the result of a trip taken by the artist to Gwaai Haanas and her experience visiting and breathing in the quiet solitude of that wonderful landscape. Stenciled explosive statements against the proposed Enbridge Pipeline complete the artist’s statement.

We all live downriver.

Gallery Hours: Wednesday to Saturday from Noon-5pm and 6:00 – 8:00 on show evenings.
