The Reluctant Dragon

In this whimsical story of dragons, medieval knights, and unexpected friendship, Tears of Joy Theatre will amaze once again when their award-winning puppetry brings The Reluctant Dragon's heart-warming charm to life! Telling the story of an unlikely bond between a child and a poetry-loving dragon, this inspiring show is overflowing with fun, frolics, and tales of thrilling fantasy! When a young boy befriends a peaceful dragon that would much rather sing songs than breathe fire, they team up with the gallant Sir George to devise a cunning plan to keep the dragon safe, staging mock battles, tricking the villagers, and living happily ever after. An enchanting production told through innovative and expressive puppets and colourful costumes, The Reluctant Dragon is a delightful tale guaranteed to warm the hearts of kids of all ages.

Chilliwack Visual Artists Association presents

... It Speaks to Me

Salish born artist Bon Graham-Krulicki lives with her family in the Stó:lō community of Chilliwack, B.C. A professional graphic artist for more than 25 years, Bon has earned recognition and awards on the provincial, national and international level. Her paintings, designs and prints are inspired by the richness of her Aboriginal ancestry and a strong desire to preserve the culture and Halkomelem language. “My paintings and designs are created as a tribute to my Salish heritage, a preservation of the language through art and the recognition and appreciation of the environment, the flow of life and culture, and physical and spiritual power it embraces.”

Exhibition runs November 26 – January 2, 2015.

Opening Reception 1:00-3:00pm Saturday, November 28, 2015
